

Guyco Kitchen & Joinery Ltd provides design and manufacturing services for kitchen and bathrooms. Jasmine Jordan, a kitchen designer at Guyco Kitchen & Joinery, has been a long-time user of 2020 Design—having used it in past roles for over a decade. Jasmine believes in designing kitchen layouts that encourage comfortable interaction while maintaining the balance between congregation of family and friends and separation to ensure you can cook, clean and socialize with ease. “When you are creating a new kitchen for your home, you need design advice from someone who really cares and knows what they are talking about. With my 15 years of experience as a kitchen designer, I can see endless design possibilities and practical solutions. 2020 Design helps me visualize those possibilities to my customers.”

With the recent upgrade to 2020 Design v11, Jasmine found a number of welcome benefits. Two that easily stood out from the others was the ability to produce photorealistic renderings for her customers, which often closed the sale, and the fact that it was very user-friendly to upgrade. Jasmine always works closely with the 2020 Design support team from Laminex NZ, who with Guyco’s own IT team, ensure updates are installed and issues dealt with quickly, allowing Jasmine to focus all her attention on her customers’ requests.

Though the new release of 2020 Design v11 places some emphasis on a number of exciting features like the Virtual Reality experience and access to 2020 Cloud catalogs (online supplier libraries), Jasmine appreciates its simplicity in its ability for her to create a floor plan design, elevations and colourful presentations at the click of a mouse. Jasmine recommends 2020 Design for other businesses (just not the competition) who are looking have an edge when it comes providing customers a close enough visual to the end-product.
